

LARGE CROWD AT COMMUNITY PICNIC

One of the largest crowds ever seen on the Didsbury Exhibition Grounds, attended the Community Picnic given by the business men on Tuesday, when over 1,250 persons passed through the main gate.

Early in the morning, the boys were around making preparations for the day. The booths were decorated and stocked and by 10-30, everything was ready to accommodate the crowd.

The larger part of the crowd brought their lunch baskets and at noon the butte was dotted with picnic parties, the poplar grove on the hillside making an ideal spot for picnicing.

The ice-cream and lemonade booth, where ice cream was given free to the children, proved a very popular resort and almost 3,000 cones were dished out to the juvenile multitude, besides innumerable gallons of lemonade.

The races and athletic sports drew a large number of entries and the kiddies seemed to be having a great time. The events for the older folk caused lots of amusement and the egg-and-spoon races were quite an attraction, the ladies being successful in finishing the race but none of the men were able to reach the tape.

Elkton won first place in the softball tournament, winning two games, with Westcott in second place. Didsbury lost both their games to the country teams.

The only thing that marred the day was an accident to a young Calgary boy named Luft, who is visiting his uncle, J. Luft of Elkton. The boy was struck in the face by a bat which slipped from the hands of one of the softball players. The doctor was called and the boy taken to town, where the wound was dressed. The committee regret this accident and very sincerely express their sympathy with the boy.

Mr. Ken Robinson spent the week end with his parents at Edmonton.

Didsbury Horses Go To Calgary Fair

W. J. Fulkerth has five entries in the Calgary Exhibition which will be held next week.

In the class for jumpers, he has entered "Peggy," a four-year-old jumper who won the performance jump and the high jump for ponies 14.2 and under at the Spring Show.

In the class for five-gaited saddle-horses, he has entered "The Dare," "Miss Maypole," and "Laura La Plante." "Miss Maypole" is also entered in the driving class.

These horses are in beautiful condition and Mr. Fulkerth has taken great pains in their training, not only for the show-ring but in performing many clever stunts.

Mr. Fulkerth will also take with his shipment, W. Reeder's Welsh stallion, "Brae Dawn," who has been entered in the pony classes.

The horses will be shipped on Saturday.

He reports many items of vital interest to urban municipalities being discussed. The resolutions passed by the convention, were on Friday submitted to Premier Brownlee and his cabinet by the legislative committee, of which the local delegate was appointed a member.

The Cradle Roll department of the E. V. Sunday School had a very pleasant outing on Mrs. E. Reitzel's park-lawn last Thursday afternoon. After a programme of wholesome entertainment for both mothers and babies had been rendered, a dainty lunch was served to 57 mothers and small children who were present. This was followed by a very interesting cradle roll service on Sunday morning in the church. At this service 21 of the oldest members of the cradle roll were officially promoted to the beginner's department in the Sunday school. Each one received a beautifully colored and engraved promotion certificate as they passed through the gates into the beginners' class where they were welcomed with a bouquet of rosebuds. This service will be long remembered by most every one in attendance. How true, "The church moves forward on the feet of little children".

Calgary Power Reduce Rates

New Summer Schedule Takes Effect June 30th

Since the extension of the power lines of the Calgary Power Company Limited throughout the Province of Alberta, consumption of electricity for electric refrigeration, cooking, etc., has increased considerably, due to the low-rate schedule. This class of business has reached such proportions that the Company is now able to offer further economies for this class of service.

To domestic users, the energy charge for over 50 k.w.h. per month is reduced from 3 1-3c. per k.w.h. to 2 1-2c.

Commercial users will pay 2 1-4c. per k.w.h. for over 200 hours' use per month instead of 3 1-3c. as formerly.

Power users will benefit by a shortening of blocks in the power schedule.

The new reduced rates which are to be known as the Summer Schedule will be put into effect on all bills rendered after June 30th and will hold until October 31st. In future years the summer schedule will be put into force on all bills rendered from March 1st to October 31st. The winter rates will remain in force only for the remaining four months.

The Annual Didsbury Camp Meeting will be held on the camp ground, east of town, July 11th to 20th. Everyone is cordially invited to attend all services.

Boxing Exhibition

The Boxing exhibition held in the Opera House on Saturday last, attracted a large crowd of fans.

The main event was a ten two-minute round bout between Befus and Flood, and these boys who have met several times before, put up their usual good exhibition.

The first four rounds were evenly matched and Flood had a shade the best of it in the fifth and floored Befus for a count of two. In the sixth round, Befus began to show his superiority and in the seventh, put Flood out for a count of eight. In the eighth round, Befus had it all over Flood and put him to the floor twice. The referee stopped the bout and declared Befus the winner on a technical knockout.

In the preliminaries, several scrappy little bouts were put on by local boys.

Norman Fransch and Lawrence Gabel fought to draw in the first bout.

The second was a scrappy little affair between Tommy Lamont and Alex Befus, the referee giving Lamont the decision on aggressiveness.

The bout between Golden Gabel and Elmer McMow was unevenly matched and McMow got the decision.

Herb Carlton received the decision in the fourth bout over Kieffer Stauffer, Carlton having the advantage in weight over the other boy.

Young Gabel and Young Lamont caused lots of amusement and a good deal of applause in the next bout and the round was called a draw.

In the semi-final, McRae was given the decision over Paul Fransch.

Dr. Mann of Olds, made a very satisfactory referee and H. Roberts and E. Blain acted as timekeepers.

The Canadian Pacific Bubble

The following extract from an editorial in "London Truth," published, September 1, 1881, 49 years ago, is amusing.

The Canadian Pacific Railroad Company has begun, I see, to launch its bonds. A group of Montreal and New York bankers have undertaken to float ten million dollars worth of the company's land grant bonds, and the Bank of Montreal, with its usual courage, has taken one-fourth of the entire loan. This announcement looks as if the Canadians were going to raise the necessary capital on the other side of the water, but I have a shrewd suspicion that they have no real intention of doing anything of the kind. The New Yorkers are keen enough gamblers, and reckless enough at times I admit, and yet it is impossible to believe that they are such fools as to put their money into this mad project. I would as soon credit them with a willingness to subscribe hard cash in support of a scheme for the utilization of icebergs. The Canadian Pacific Railway will run, if it is ever finished, through a country frost bound for seven or eight months in the year, and will connect with the western part of the Dominion a province which embraces about as forbidding a country as any on the face of the earth. British Columbia, they say, has forced on the execution of this part of the contract under which they become incorporated with the Dominion, and believe that prosperity will come to them when the line is made. This is a delusion on their part. British Columbia is a barren, cold, mountain country that is not worth keeping. It would never have been inhabited at all, unless by trappers of the Hudson's Bay Company, had the "gold fever" not taken a party of mining adventurers there, and ever since that fever died down, the place has been going from bad to worse. Fifty railroads would not galvanize it into prosperity.

Nevertheless, the Canadian Government has fairly launched into this project and I have no doubt the English public will soon be asked to further it with their cash. The parade of selling bonds in New York and Montreal is the new way of doing business that "Syndicates" bankers and loan contractors have adopted in order that it may seem that they have faith in the schemes they father. I doubt if ten millions of dollars of ready cash could be found in all of Canada for this or any other work of utility at a pinch, but the Canadians are not such idiots as to part with one dollar of their own if they can borrow their neighbors'. The Canadians spend money and we provide it. That has been the arrangement hitherto, and it has worked out splendidly—for the Canadians—too well for them to try any other scheme with the Canadian Pacific, which they must know is never likely to pay a single red cent of interest on the money that may be sunk in it. A friend of mine told me—and he knew what he was talking about—that he did not believe the much touted Manitoba settlement would hold out many years. The people who have gone there cannot stand the coldness of the winters. Men and cattle are frozen to death in numbers that would rather startle the intending settler if he knew; and those who are not killed outright, are often maimed for life by frost-bites. Its street nuisances kill people with malaria, or drive them mad with plagues of insects; and to keep themselves alive during the long winter they have to imitate the habits of the Esquimaux. Those who want to know what it is like should read the not-yet-forgotten books of Colonel Butler. His "Great Lone Land" is the land of which the Canadian Pacific Railway has vet five and twenty million acres to sell and it is through a death-dealing region of this kind that the new railway is to run.

As the bonds "secured" on this land or others guaranteed by the Dominion Government are sure to be offered in this market by the "Bankers" and others forming the company, I think a word or two on Canadian finances in general would be in season.

Canada is one of the most over-rated Colonies we have, but it is heartily "loyal" and makes the loyalty pay. Its astute inhabitants know well how to work on John Bull's susceptibilities, and I have seen nothing finer in the way of advertising than poor Lord Lorne's "Tour" now in progress. He has gone to the North, but just at the right time, and the gushing accounts we are receiving from the "Specials" who are accompanying him are admirably adapted to create a belief that the true land of promise is to be found there at last. With such soil to till, and among such Queen worshippers, the distressed British farmer would be in bliss. Of course they who choose can believe all that. For my part I know of only one province in the whole Dominion—that of Ontario. "It is the only province," as a shrewd land jobber said to me once, "where you can lend money on land with any hope of ever seeing your own again." As for the country as a whole it is poor and it is crushed with debt. The Supreme Government owes about thirty-five million pounds altogether, and every province has its separate debt, as also has almost every collection of shanties calling itself a "city." The Province and the City of Quebec are both notoriously bankrupt, and the latter was obliged to go to Paris with its last loan, probably because nobody would lend it here. Last year the country had the benefit of a good crop and a good market here, so that it did a little better, but generally it has hard work to make both ends meet, and often couldn't. Nearly every year it comes for a new loan or two, and once it is fairly committed to making this new railway I see nothing before it but bankruptcy. While the money is being spent all will go well enough, perhaps, but in the end the Dominion will have to go into liquidation. It amazes me that its stocks stand where they do as things are, but if people took the trouble to look beneath the surface, prices would be very different. One of these days when the load gets too heavy, Ontario is pretty certain to go over to the States into which it dove-tails, and where its best trade outlet is. When the day comes the "Dominion" will disappear. With the contingency ahead and with the prospect of another fifty million pounds or so to be added to the debt, can it be said that "Canadian Unguaranteed Four Per Cent" are worth their present price? This "Dominion" is, in short, a "fraud" all through and is destined to burst up like any other fraud. Then, and not, I suppose, till then, the British taxpayer will ask why we guaranteed so much of this sham government debt.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Britain's New Flying Operating Theatre

Machine Just Completed Is Equipped Up-To-Date

For use in the outpost of the British Empire, a remarkable new flying operating theatre has just been completed. In order that a patient may be lifted gently, the sides of the cabin are hinged, so that they fall completely open. There are racks for surgical appliances of all sorts, and room for two attendant nurses as well as a doctor. The fuselage is specially sprung in order that taking off and landing shall not unduly disturb the patient. An ice chest, fresh-water tanks, and a small electric stove for heating water form part of the equipment. The machine is fitted with two Napier Lion engines, giving a total of nearly 1,500 h.p., and the aerial operating room can be maintained in the air with only one engine working with very little reduction of speed. Operations would be carried out in mid-air only in the most urgent cases; but there have been instances where the lives of settlers, soldiers, and natives in remote outposts could have been saved if an immediate operation, followed by skilled nursing, could have been assured. The new aeroplane will meet this need.

AGONY OF NEURITIS

A Story Of Intense Suffering and Relief

"Do I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills?" "You may believe I do," says Mr. John H. Jamieson, of Wallaceburg, Ont.

"For five years I suffered day and night from neuritis. The agony was terrible. I lost control of my arm and shoulder and my hand became shriveled. Nothing helped me till I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Even then the improvement was slow and I took ten boxes before I was on the way to recovery. After that, though, relief was rapid. My hand gradually filled out; the pain left me and I could sleep in peace. That was two years ago and I have not had a twinge of the trouble since."

Sufferers from neuritis, neuralgia or rheumatism should try the common-sense method of banishing these troubles by enriching the blood and strengthening the nerves with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Growing Industry

Demand For Bulbs Grown On Vancouver Island Exceeds Supply

"Bulb growing on Vancouver Island is still an infant industry," said Mr. T. B. Dempster, who is probably the largest grower of bulbs in British Columbia, as well as the pioneer grower of bulbs on the Island for export, having been established for twenty-one years. "The possibilities for the growth of this industry are enormous. We could do a greater volume of business than we are doing at present if we could supply the demand, and occasionally find ourselves in the position where we must buy bulbs for our own use."

A Remedy For Earache.—To have the earache is to endure torture. The ear is a delicate organ and few care to deal with it, considering it work for a doctor. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil offers a simple remedy. A few drops upon a piece of lint or medicated cotton and placed in the ear do much in relieving pain.

Another phase of much-needed national adjustment is disclosed by the fact that there are over 26,000,000 automobiles and less than 1,000,000 hospital beds in this country.

Helping the Empire

Wise "Old Country" Housewives Buy Canadian Produce

"Wise shopkeepers stock Canadian produce, good housewives buy it" is the maxim underlying the Empire Marketing Board's latest Canadian poster frame set now appearing on the Board's special frames in London and nearly five hundred cities and towns in the "Old Country."

The set consists of five posters. A Canadian apple orchard in flower and a ship for Canada under construction in a United Kingdom shipyard, are the subjects of the first and fifth. In the centre are maps of the United Kingdom and Canada drawn to scale. To right and left are smaller posters showing barrels of Canadian apples being unloaded at the docks and a customer inspecting a display of Canadian food products at a grocer's shop.

The posters point out how bigger purchases of Canadian products will result in bigger orders for Home factories. "Every time you buy Empire produce you help the Empire to buy the goods you make at home" is the message of the whole set.

Prairie Provinces Are Well Equipped With Facilities For Marketing Purposes

Few large surplus-producing agricultural regions are as well equipped with facilities for the distribution and marketing of agricultural products as the Prairie Provinces of Western Canada. Two transcontinental railways with thousands of miles of branch lines tap every part of the producing territory of this region. On the west these railways deliver prairie products to the ports of Vancouver and Prince Rupert. To the east the products are either carried by all rail routes to the Atlantic seaboard or St. Lawrence River ports or, as in the case of grain, delivered at the head of the Great Lakes. An additional outlet for products from this region is being provided by way of the Hudson's Bay. A railway extending northeastward from the heart of the producing territory now finds an outlet through Churchill on the Bay, where facilities are being provided for handling grain and other products by a new short route to the markets of the British Isles and Europe. Radiating from the numerous small towns and cities on these lines of railway, run many thousand of miles of good roads for the delivery of farm products from the adjoining agricultural regions.

Western Canada is a surplus-producing region. The major portion of its products is marketed elsewhere in Canada, or in the markets of the world. There are, however, satisfactory local markets in the towns and cities of the prairies for most of the perishable products produced, such as fruits and vegetables. A large quantity of poultry and dairy products is also produced for home consumption. The surplus of these products, however, finds its way to more distant markets. In the larger centres where railway terminate, facilities are provided for the handling of livestock, grain and other products.

Outstanding progress has been made by the farmers of the Canadian west in the matter of co-operative marketing. Probably no group of farmers anywhere has advanced more in the matter of self-help in marketing. The Wheat Pool of Western Canada is the outstanding example of this development. More than fifty per cent of the grain of Western Canada is handled through this farmer-owned organization. About $30,000,000 have been invested by producers in their own grain-handling facilities which consist of approximately fifteen hundred country elevators and a dozen or more large terminals at Great Lakes and Pacific Coast ports. Another outstanding farmer-owned grain-marketing association is the United Grain Growers, operating more than five hundred country elevators and engaging in various other phases of business on behalf of producers. A large part of the livestock in Western Canada is marketed through the Provincial Livestock Pools which, together with similar organizations in the eastern provinces, form a national livestock marketing agency. Similarly in the marketing of wool, a Dominion-wide organization with a western branch office at Regina is handling in the neighbourhood of four million pounds annually, which represents more than one third of the Canadian crop. So also in the marketing of seed grain, poultry and dairy products and in many other lines, extensive facilities have been provided by farmers themselves for the handling of their products. Many of the co-operative marketing organizations have been in existence for a period of ten to twenty years and have thus proven their worth. In competition with these farmer-owned and controlled organizations there is, of course, a well developed system of marketing operated by private capital.

Prefers a Canadian

A lass in Lancashire, England, with a "weakness" for mounties, has asked Mayor Frank Plant for the name of a suitable man with whom she can correspond. A letter from the girl, received by the Mayor, sets forth that the man must be of good birth, character, physique, good looking and with good prospects. A postscript says the young lady "would like a Canadian mounty, if possible, to correspond with."

Beating Father Time

Two-Crop-a-Year System Speeds Up Research Work

The success which has attended the efforts of L. H. Newman, Dominion Cerealist, and his staff at the Central Experimental Farm of the Dominion Department of Agriculture in growing two crops of grain a year, one in the field and the other in the cereal greenhouse, is a fine example of putting one over on Father Time. The most important work of the Cereal Division is the development of new varieties of cereal and other plants particularly adapted to Canadian conditions and demands. In the cereal greenhouse grain harvested from field test plots in the fall is planted again within a month or so, and the work of research and development is carried forward another crop year during the one calendar year. This means in practical result that the research work which usually took from eight to ten years to carry out in connection with a specific hybrid development under the old system of field test plots can now be done in from four to five years under the new two-crop-a-year system. The development is one of major significance to Canada's future as a producer of cereal and forage crops.

Poultry Grading a Success

Record Of Performance Has Resulted In Better Birds

Ten years in operation of the Canadian Record of Performance for Poultry under the supervision of the Dominion Live Stock Branch has resulted in 51,945 banded birds having qualified for R.O.P. certificates, having laid at least 150 eggs during the record year, while an additional 17,907 hens laying 225 eggs or more each during the record year have qualified for R.O.P. Advanced certificates. Record of Performance is a poultry grading medium open to commercial and farm flocks throughout Canada through which the real production qualities of hens is determined and established in tangible form.

Menace To Farm Animals

Horsetail Weed Usually Found In Poorly Drained Fields

Horsetail, a weed familiar throughout Canada, is a menace to horses and other farm animals because of its poisonous properties. The Botanist of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, calling attention to the harmful effect of this weed on horses, cattle, sheep and sometimes pigs, points out that the presence of the weed in fields is usually an indication of the need for drainage. In cases where the weed is found steps should be taken for its complete eradication through proper drainage and adequate soil cleaning by a thorough system of crop rotation.

C.N.R. WESTERN REGION OFFICIALS PROMOTED

A. C. EGAN

T. J. GRACEY

Announcement has been made of the promotion of A. C. Egan, Winnipeg, comptroller, Canadian National Railways, western region, to assistant comptroller of disbursements for the system, with headquarters at Montreal. T. J. Gracey, Winnipeg, assistant comptroller, is promoted to regional auditor. The appointments are effective, June 1.

Mr. Egan, who was born in Winnipeg, 1883, entered railway service in 1901. With the exception from 1919 to 1923, when he served the railway, in Toronto, as assistant to comptroller and general auditor, Mr. Egan had made Winnipeg his headquarters, serving in such capacities as accountant, chief travelling auditor, auditor of agencies, and regional comptroller; the latter he now relinquishes to take on more responsible duties at general headquarters in Montreal.

Mr. Gracey, who was born in Kingston, 1889, came to Winnipeg, May, 1923. He entered railway service, in 1906, at North Bay with the T. & N. O. Railway, serving that company in various positions until 1920, when he became assistant auditor of disbursements, at Toronto, for the Canadian Northern Railway. In 1923, Mr. Gracey was transferred to Winnipeg to his present position, and now becomes regional auditor.

Canadians No Longer Have Idea That East and West Are Separate Communities

Of recent years a marked change has passed over the general conception of the relationship between the Eastern and Western moieties of the Dominion. Not so long ago the accepted idea was that the clay belt of Ontario marked a gulf between that province and the prairie and Pacific provinces as deep as that which separated the thirst-parched Dives from Lazarus, safe and happy in Abraham's bosom. To the West lay the granary of Canada while eastward lay the predatory industrialized districts which regarded the granary as their own particular happy hunting ground. That idea has vanished, never to return.

This century has brought no more remarkable change than the realization that Canada is not divided up and parcelled out into any such two antagonistic and antipathetic communities. The clay belt of Ontario is now regarded as a link not a barrier. The farms of the huge region north of Lake Superior will some day merge imperceptibly into the farm lands of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and in the further North hinterland, right from the Maritime provinces Westward will be found the same Laurentian plateau that holds the immense mineral wealth of the Dominion. In the future, possibly earlier than expected, mining towns will spring up and with them the rapid development of the industries that are invariably and inseparably associated with urban settlement. Then will arrive the Day of Canada, a day when the Dominion will step forth a complete and fully rounded out natural unity.

That may be anticipating, but mining and lumbering are not the only industries where Manitoba is beginning to trespass on what were so long regarded as preserves of Ontario and the East. And the third unexpected and hitherto unexploited field of enterprise is probably the last that would have occurred to the residents of Older Canada. Who among them would have supposed that the Manitoba industry recording the greatest gain in recent years would be one never before associated with our immediate Western neighbor. Nothing else, indeed, than fishing.

In a recent editorial the St. Catharines Standard stated that during the past few years the inland fisheries production of Manitoba had increased over one hundred per cent., and that in 1929, the market value of the 33,000,000 pounds of fish caught for commercial purposes in Lakes Winnipeg, Manitoba and Winnipegosis, and other lakes in the province, aggregated $2,634,000. The same article noted that a steady expansion had also taken place in the fish production of the other prairie provinces, though they did not equal the gain disclosed in the new Manitoba total.

Indications are, this article also declared, that the advance will continue in each of the three provinces for additional fishing waters are being opened each year as settlement advances and transportation facilities are extended. It seems reasonable to assume, also, that as settlement on Manitoba's Hudson Bay coast develops, sea fishing will be an increasingly important factor. Every indication of the multiplication of activities and lines of production in the west is welcomed by those in the older provinces who realize that true prosperity depends upon the economic soundness, stability and self-reliance of each, of the various component parts of the whole country.

Working To Music

Senegal Negroes Have Novel Method Of Ensuring Massed Action

A common exercise among teachers who wish their pupils to "think" music is to allow them to sing part of a tune and then break off, picking up the tune at a certain point an instant later. Among the negroes of Senegal, however, this exercise has a practical use that is not all musical. When a vessel has got on to a sandbank the way of getting it off again is by a large number of divers plunging into the water together and lifting it on their shoulders. Sometimes as many as five hundred are engaged on such a task. They swim round the vessel all singing together and at say, the eighth bar, they dive, mentally continuing the melody while under the water, then at the 12th bar they all push, or lift as the case may be, and at the 16th all rise to the surface again. By this means they have no need to hear the leader counting or beating, and none of their efforts are lost by any individual being before or after the others. To do this, however, they must have a strong sense of time and tune.

Choice Of Two Methods

Molasses Can Be Given To Hens In Water Or Food

There are two methods of giving molasses to chickens. You can mix it at the rate of a pint of molasses to four quarts of water and give them this water to drink in usual quantities. Be sure to give a fresh supply daily after cleaning drinking vessels carefully, as molasses will ferment if left in vessels for a few days, especially in warm rooms or temperatures. If preferred, you can use this molasses water for mixing your wet mash and they will get it in feed.

Commercial Orchards In B.C.

In British Columbia commercial fruit-growing is of comparatively recent origin; but the development of commercial orcharding has been very rapid, especially during the last ten years. The first apple trees were planted about 1850, but not until after the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1886 were there many trees planted for commercial purposes.

Black, brown and cinnamon bears all belong to the same species.

Natural deposits of sand and gravel occur in all the provinces of Canada.

THE CITIZEN'S DUTY

There will be an election in Canada on July 28th. At that election the question of who shall govern and administer the affairs of the people of Canada will be decided. The election, therefore, has a vital bearing upon the life of every one of us. Matters of taxation, the development of the country, the providing of work for our people, the giving of opportunity to our sons and daughters, the maintaining of harmony within our borders and of the closest relations with the Motherland and the rest of the Empire, tariff matters, and many other vital questions come within the purview of the Dominion Parliament. This all being so, it is imperative that every one of us claiming to be a good and true Canadian shall approach this "Grand Inquest of the Nation" with a deep sense of responsibility. It is not sufficient discharge of duty on our part to merely look upon a general election as a chance to get our party in and keep the other party out.

Canada is a young country, a forward-looking country. It cannot be held in the grip of yesterday. It is like the embryo chicken in the shell. To stay in the shell means that the chicken will go rotten and die. The bursting of the shell sets the seal on life. We men and women of Canada must always be looking ahead and stop imitating Lot's wife who looked behind and got preserved in salt for her pains. For these reasons, and they are good sound reasons, we must meet the opportunity of the coming elections with seriousness and sincerity, not with the lightheartedness of joy-wagoners nor the insincerities of the practical politicians. The problems of our country's administration should be considered and studied. The best policies for the welfare of Canada, and the manner in which we Canadians can make our best contribution to the life of the world in which we live, these should be our concern rather than the flapping of speakers on the hustings or the pull of inherited party leanings.

Our votes must be delivered for Canada, to ensure its best development within the Empire; and for efficient administration of the national heritage. We should study the party platforms and satisfy ourselves as to the best policy for the country, keeping in mind the fact that this is a young country and a growing one. I give our votes to men of character, ability and honesty, and support parties whose programmes are in our judgment likely to be helpful to the country; then we shall not go far astray. Somehow or other, the best laid schemes of crooked politicians go astray and there is a divinity that shades the end of countries and peoples. No party can steal Canada, none give it all away. Let each of us do our part unselfishly, without partisanship, without fear or favor, and the general elections will prove a new baptism of power for Canada.

About one hundred friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. J. C. All present joined in wishing the happy couple a long and prosperous married life.

COST OF GOVERNMENT

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

The most interesting item in the estimates towards keeping the machinery of parliament moving is that of salaries. A total of $300,000 is provided for the indemnities of members of parliament, while $384,000 is required for members of the Senate. Travelling allowances for members of the Commons require $14,000, while the Senators, not being so numerous, require less—$5,000.

The cost of printing for the session is $70,000. This also includes printing paper and binding. The clerical staff of the House of Commons are paid a total of $257,160, while that of the Upper House comes to $170,345. Committees of the House of Commons—where most of the legislative work is done—costs the country $111,950, including the salaries of clerical assistants. Included in the cost of legislation is that of publishing the debates of the House of Commons, which requires $60,000. The services of stenography and type-writing for the use of members of the Commons, which is provided, cost $55,000.

These figures are decidedly interesting, and if the cost of the various legislatures were added to them, they would show that the people pay a pretty heavy annual bill for being governed.

Arrangements have been completed whereby the arrival in Canada of the R-100, Britain's huge airliner, will be broadcast throughout Canada and the United States by the Trans-Canada Broadcasting Company and the National Broadcasting Company, according to announcement recently made by R. W. Ashcroft, manager of the former company. The official broadcast, which includes the arrival of the ship and attendant ceremonies, will be carried from coast to coast of the Dominion over the new radio programme broadcasting transmission system of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's telegraphs.

Welcoming the latest addition to the Canadian Pacific Railway's fleet of 19 passenger vessels on ocean and coastal service in British Columbia, Vancouver recently congratulated the railway on its initiative and foresight in building upon the west coast of Canada a service second to none, on the occasion of the arrival of the "Princess Elizabeth" at the Pacific port. The sister ship, "Princess Joan" arrived at Victoria the following day. The "Elizabeth" was welcomed by the Mayor of Vancouver.

Marking the passing of another milestone in the history of the company, the recently constructed Canadian Pacific branch line from Willingdon to Vegreville, a distance of about 20 miles, was declared open for traffic recently with the arrival of the first passenger train at the Vegreville station.

With a record reservation list indicating a very busy season ahead, the Banff Springs Hotel welcomed its first guests of the year May 15. Considerable improvement work has been done on the 18 hole golf course which was virtually ready for play on opening day.

Development of fruit growing on the prairies has been one of the features of agricultural progress in recent years in western Canada. Patches of native gooseberries, currants and raspberries have evolved into orchards containing many varieties of plums, cherries, apples and small fruits. The largest acreages are devoted to strawberries and raspberries.

A recent official compilation shows that farm live stock in Canada in 1929 was valued at $864,167,000 as compared with $696,472,000 in 1926. Canada's poultry population in 1929 numbered 60,899,782, valued at $63,854,000.

A forest in embryo—250 acres of jack and white pine—has been planted by the Saskatchewan forestry service in the Prince Albert region. H. P. Eisler, forestry engineer, states that the transplanting of 2,000,000 nursery seedlings and stock is the largest of such programmes in the history of the province.

SAVING GAME FOR US

It Is High Time to Cease Firing on Migratory Birds

Game conservationists throughout Canada most strongly support the need for international law governing migratory birds. It is of little use for Canada to reduce the bag limit or call a close season if United States has not similar legislation. The birds merely go south for other guns to shoot, and there is no conservation about it. Since the last treaty between the two countries, the American bag limit is 8 geese and 20 ducks. This runs up, it is estimated, to twelve million migratory birds shot annually in United States.

Now, however, by Federal law and after a fierce struggle, the limit of ducks per day in the south has been reduced to 15. Strangely enough the big protest to this duck limit has been from the members of duck clubs. This is strange because the entire value of duck club preserves rests upon the presence of ducks. The land purchased for this purpose is usually marshy and not particularly valuable except as a preserve. So if the ducks disappear the investment is valueless, which is a point to be considered in addition to the loss of the sport. Yet these are the men opposed to any restrictions on game shooting.

There are many real sportsmen in U. S. however, who are realizing, as Canadian sportsmen are realizing, that the wild duck is decreasing in numbers and unless adequately protected will become extinct. The comforting theories that they are destroyed by poisoned water, northern menaces, etc., or that they have merely sought other stopping places, does not square with facts, which are that the birds do not exist in anything approaching the numbers of earlier years, and the incessant bombardment to which they are subjected in season, must account for it. Many good sportsmen have quit duck shooting but they personally dislike to wipe out a disappearing race. Some have quit because they feel they have had their share and are willing to leave some to another generation.

Amongst minor international matters—if the preservation of birds is a minor matter—there should be strict uniformity of laws governing the shooting of migratory birds. If one country permits a heavier limit than another, or a long open season, or permits the sale of wild birds to restaurants, hotels, etc., or the use of live decoys, for geese, the attempts of the other country to preserve birds is nullified. Sanctuaries and refuge spots should be freely scattered from the Arctic to the Gulf of Mexico. Bootlegging in game should be severely prohibited. Bag limits should be reduced still lower.

Indeed it is the opinion of many sportsmen both in United States and Canada that it is time to cease firing at the migratory bird.

Elections in 1842

Not many of us can recall the good old elections of 1842. But here is the way they were conducted. Open voting, not balloting, was the system. One polling booth was named in each district and to it very voter had to trudge to record his vote. He told the returning officer verbally, for whom he wished to vote. The elections lasted for days, sometimes weeks. Naturally a crowd hung round the booth waiting to hear how each man voted. Feeling was hot over the issues of the times, liquor flowed freely, and almost invariably there were big election "rows." Parties sometimes hired a gang of strong-arm men to go to the polling booth and terrorize those who voted against them. Soldiers were kept busy quelling wild commotions. Those were the days, when by fair means or foul, they got their man elected.

The twelfth consecutive season of the Trans-Canada Limited, Canadian Pacific flyer de luxe across the Dominion will commence when the train leaves the Windsor station, Montreal, at 6:45 p.m. daylight time, Saturday, May 17 next. Canada's Permanent head boards divide each of the eight sections between Montreal and Vancouver in 89 hours, fifteen minutes and return in 86 hours, fifteen minutes. In the period of its running between these points the Trans-Canada Limited will make 268 trips up to September 27.

Eight million dollars has gone into the cost of equipment for the Trans-Canada and this service will absorb 12 trains crews and 24 engine crews. The sleeping cars—of all steel—are finished in rich walnut, upholstered in a colorful flowered tapestry pattern, fitted with specially designed fixtures and carpeted and curtained in a deep shade of brown. Permanent head boards divide each of the eight sections from its neighbor giving increased privacy; and two compartments and a drawing room, finished in similar style, take up the balance of the sleeper, apart from the unusually roomy dressing rooms for men and women. The dining cars are finished in a like manner and have forced ventilation whereby used air is sucked out of the car by powerful fans, ensuring a fresh atmosphere. Rear end equipment, as it is technically called, is featured by the unique solarium lounge car containing green tile bathrooms, spacious dressing rooms and a lounge compartment glazed with vitra-glass to admit the ultra-violet and most beneficial sun rays.

Lay-out shows Trans-Canada leaving the Windsor Street station, Montreal, on its long journey; Solarium car, Lounge car and Ladies' shower.

Ensures Quality and Length

Canadian Inspectors Keep Careful Check On Binder Twine

One of the perennial difficulties of the grain grower at harvest time comes from binder twine. The Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, through its inspectors, keeps a careful check not only on the quality of binder twine made in Canadian factories and also brought in from other countries, but they also take particular care to ensure that the full length of the twine is in the ball. Under the Inspection and Sales Act every ball of binder twine sold in Canada must bear a label showing the name of the maker and the number of feet per pound in the ball of twine. The usual lengths are 500, 550, 600 and 650 feet per pound, the two longer lengths being the more popular in Canada. Systematic inspection shows that infractions of the regulations are infrequent, and also ensures that quality in the product which gives confidence to the farmer using it.

A sports weight linen in lovely soft brown with maize dots adopts bolero treatment that is decidedly one-sided, with sash ends joined to underarm seams and tied in bow. The skirt sways so prettily cut circular and joined to diagonal yoke top. Shirring at left front shoulder provides decorative note and fullness. Long sleeves have perforations to be made short, if desired.

Style No. 2948 makes an excellent school frock for the girl who knows smart clothes. It is very inexpensive too. In the 8-year size, 2½ yards of 40-inch material is sufficient to copy it exactly. It is designed in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

Brown and white checked gingham with the one-sided bolero which is merely an over blouse caught in at shoulder and armhole made of plain brown pique is strikingly chic and serviceable.

Nile green cotton pique with bolero and neckline piped in yellow is very attractive.

Orchid chambray, pink shantung, wool challis in yellow-beige and brown tones, French blue dimity with white polka-dots, and red and white printed pique are effective combinations.

It is just about perfect in tomato red crepe de chine with the little bolero jacket of navy blue crepe.

Printed crepe de chine in Royal blue tones with tan is very smart.

Navy blue wool crepe is very fashionable for travel or school days.

Advice For Livestock Producers

Should Exercise Caution With Respect To Movement To Slaughter

The Dominion Live Stock Branch continues its advice to the producer to exercise the greatest caution with respect to the movement of livestock to slaughter. The reasons for this are: Consumer purchasing power shows a decline, the expert market is comparatively narrow, demand for beef is now on a hand-to-mouth basis, and cold storage supplies are particularly heavy. At the present time 12 per cent. more beef is in cold storage than for the same time last year, the stock of fresh frozen beef is about 26 per cent. heavier, veal is 76 per cent. heavier, and lamb and mutton in cold storage shows an increase of 84 per cent. over the corresponding period last year.

Wool Market Wanted

Canadian Producers Would Like To Sell At Home

Canadian wool growers, who produce slightly over 21,000,000 pounds of wool annually, are not as well situated as to markets as are the growers of other live stock products. In spite of the fact that Canadian wool is the equal of that grown anywhere, much of our product must find a market in other countries, while goods containing virgin wool and goods into which has been woven a large percentage of shoddy are purchased and used freely by Canadian people.

It is estimated that 70,000,000 pounds of wool are required annually to meet the needs of Canadian people. However, we are forced to seek a market in United States and Great Britain for our raw wool, while we freely admit wool and yarns from other countries.

There has grown up the custom in this land of favoring the imported product, believing that it has some virtue not possessed by Canadian-made goods. This custom is costing not only wool growers and fabric makers, but many other manufacturers a great deal of money.

No duty has been collected on wool coming into Canada for many years, and now weaving yarns are admitted free. As a result of this many mills have ceased to spin and that means that even when fabrics are woven in Canada, much of the wool used has been grown on the backs of sheep in countries other than Canada.

This is a problem that requires the earnest attention of sheep raisers and farmers generally, for the sheep industry renders a service to agriculture over and above that represented by 21,000,000 pounds of wool at 10 cents per pound.—Farmer's Advocate.

The League of Nations and the Swiss Government have reached an agreement whereby the League, in times of emergency, will have complete control of a wireless station for communication to all parts of the world.

Producing Better Bacon

Live Hog Grading Policy Has Had Excellent Results

Canada's Live Hog Grading Policy, supervised by the Meat Inspection Service of the Dominion Live Stock Branch, has resulted in the production of increasing quantities of select bacon hogs. ### CHAPTER XV.—Continued.

"Oh, no, she doesn't!" contradicted Grandma, "not if she finds the right man, anyway. School teaching's all very well for a while; but I guess the girls are just the same inside as they were in my day, except maybe they're more sensible. A girl wants her own man and her own home and her own babies, whether she wears her skirts to her knees or trailing in the dust as they did when I was your age. I saw a letter in the Boston paper protesting about 'this leg show,' as the woman called it. I made me sort of mad. I guess she was over seventy, or else terribly behind the times. I'm too old to make changes myself; but it would be a dull world if nobody made 'em; and for my part I can't see what's wrong with a pair o' legs. Even Mrs. Merry's had her best dress shortened, though being the minister's wife I expect some folks'll criticize her. If you're not too tired, childy, I think you'd better make something good for supper. The doctor's been scurrying 'round all day, and is liable to have an appetite. Here he comes now!"

CHAPTER XVI.

On a bright afternoon in late October, Charmian, who had stayed after school to correct some papers, was just starting on her homeward walk when a familiar car approached and drew up beside her.

Before Her Baby Came

"I have used several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find it helps me wonderfully, especially before childbirth. I have five lovely children. After my last baby came I had a miserable pain in my right side so I bought another bottle of the Compound and I feel fine now. I work outside during the fruit season in addition to my housework."—Mrs. Charles Slingerland, R.R. #4, St. Catharines, Ontario.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM, M.D., 100 N. B. ST., NEW ENGLAND, U.S.A.
and Calgary, Alberta, Canada

W. N. U. 1841

"Ride?" questioned Jim shortly. "You don't seem to be going my way," she answered.

"What of it? I'll have you back in time to get your supper, and a breath of air will do you good. Hop in."

Charmian obeyed.

"I hope Grandma won't think I'm lost or kidnapped," she said uneasily; but in a moment Jim saw that she had relaxed, and guessed that his timely invitation was a relief.

"Tired?" he asked, as they moved away from the old brick schoolhouse and headed toward Eastboro.

"A little," the girl admitted. "It's been a trying day. I suppose such days come to all schoolma'ams, and I'm no exception."

"What was your special brand of trouble this time?"

Charmian looked up with a quick smile.

"Deacon Purdie."

"That old mud turtle! What business did he have with you?"

"Have you forgotten that he is now the doting father of six?" smiled Charmian. "To make a long story short, Jim, Luella's oldest, who's a smart Aleck if there ever was one, was too impertinent yesterday to be endured. I sent him home with a note saying he could not return without apologizing, and his loving stepfather took it to heart."

"What'd he say?"

Jim was running slowly in order to watch Charmian as she talked. She met his eyes with a wistful smile.

"Oh, let's forget it! He's—"

"You'll forget it quicker if you get it off your chest," advised Jim wisely. "Go on."

"He said that his son (note the 'son,' Jimmy!), was not going to apologize to 'no Davis.' He implied that he held the school board in the hollow of his hand, and would make things hot for me unless I let the boy come back without saying he was sorry. And I can't, Jim. I wouldn't have a shred of discipline left if I allowed it. All the children heard my ultimatum, and—Oh, I believe, honestly, that the deacon is just trying to get even about those dreadful beads! Don't tell Grandma, Jimmy. It would worry her to death; but if I lose the school..."

Her voice trembled, and because Jim wanted more than he'd ever wanted anything, to tell her that the school might "go to the devil" if only she'd see a certain subject the way he did, he opened the throttle and said nothing at all until he had himself in hand. He didn't speak until they reached a bit of woodland where he stopped the car.

"Look here, Charmian." His voice was the least bit husky, and his arms were folded across his chest in an effort to keep from temptation.

"Don't let that worry you a minute. The deacon's on the school board, of course (more shame to Wickfield), but he's only one. Do you imagine that his word would weigh in the balance against yours with the other members, George K. and Doctor Howe? Don't let him scare you. Just stick to your guns and everything will be all right. Gosh! I wish you'd order me to break his ugly nose!"

Charmian laughed. Already her troubles seemed miraculously lighter.

"You think I'm right then?" she questioned humbly.

"Of course, you are! Cheer up, now, and relax. Shut your eyes, if you want to, and I won't bother you with talking. You need a rest."

The car moved forward, but though the girl closed her eyes obediently for a few moments, they wouldn't stay closed.

"There's no use my musing this lovely foliage," she explained. "It seems even more gorgeous than usual to me; and Grandma's sure Miss Lizzie's cut-leaf maple was never quite so gay."

"I think it's only that every year the coloring surprises us a little," replied Jim thoughtfully. "We're used to seeing it all green. Then comes a frosty night and—presto change! We wake up and the scene's different, the way they do it in a theatre."

"I believe you're getting poetic in your old age!" laughed Charmian light-heartedly.

"I must have caught it from you, then," he responded.

She answered, a bit reproachfully: "If you did, the infection can't be very recent. You're a good deal of a stranger these days, Jim Bennett."

He threw her a quick glance.

"I understood that your evenings were engaged."

DO YOU SUFFER WITH HEADACHE?

So easy to get quick relief and prevent an attack in the future. Avoid bromides and dope. They relieve quickly but affect the heart and are very dangerous. They are depressing and only give temporary relief, the cause of the headache still remains within.

The sane and harmless way. First correct the cause, sweeten the sour and acid stomach, relieve the intestines of the decayed and poisonous food matter, gently stimulate the liver, start the bile flowing and the bowels pass off the waste matter which causes your headache. Try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Druggists 25c red pkgs.

"How?"

"Entertaining your gentleman boarder," he answered honestly, and was furious to feel the color creep into his face.

"What would you have me do—lock him in the wood shed or his office?" she retorted. "After all, Jim, a boarder is supposed to have the privilege of the family sitting room; and Grandma likes to talk with him."

"A fine chance she has when you and he are watching the moon rise from Wade's Hill," Jim countered with good-natured sarcasm.

"Whoever on this earth told you I climbed Wade's Hill with him?"

Charmian was so astonished that Jim smiled as he replied: "It may have been the whip-poor-will that was singing its head off somewhere in the vicinity that evening; and then again, it may have been Lizzie Baker. There's precious little you do, my friend, that Lizzie doesn't broadcast to—well, my mother, for instance. She hasn't forgiven me, I understand, for taking a detour from the straight and narrow path that leads to your front door; and in consequence..."

As he hesitated, Charmian gave way to a peal of laughter in which he joined.

"I wonder why it is that our elders take our slights so much more deeply to heart than we do ourselves," said the girl at last. "Miss Lizzie thinks she owns a piece of me, you know. In her opinion every man in Wickfield should be in love with me."

"She's not far off there," responded Jim gallantly. "But as for slights—why, I—I never..."

He was suddenly inarticulate, and Charmian stretched out an impulsive hand, laying it on one of those that gripped the steering wheel; which unexpected contact caused the car to swerve.

"You don't owe me any explanation, Jimmy."

"I think I do," he answered as she removed her hand, "but not on the subject of Clara Darling."

"About what, then?" asked Charmian in surprise.

They had reached Eastboro, and Jim answered, as he slowed up before the bank: "I'll tell you some day," but before she could ask more he had vanished within a side door that gave access to the building after banking hours.

On the way home, however, he skillfully managed to keep the conversation away from his own problems, and hers. He told of happenings at the bank that made her laugh—he asked questions about trivial nothings that kept her mind from her encounter with Deacon Purdie; and when he dropped her before the old Davis house at half-past five, Charmian mas a different girl from the discouraged teacher he had picked up an hour or so before.

"You're a good doctor, Jim," she said gratefully as she left him.

"Seems as if you'd been gone a week," commented Grandma, to whom Jim waved as he rode away.

"Not but what it's been sort of an exciting day, though. A man came through on his way to the White Mountains riding one o' those infernal machines—a motorcycle, I mean."

I heard him coming from clear down the street so I was watching and saw everything plain as day. It's a wonder he hadn't killed a dozen children, going such a rate; and just as he got here Lizzie Baker's cat ran across the road chasing the Garfield's Plymouth Rock rooster that had got loose somehow. It was a bad combination, I'll admit that. You know how hens behave when they cross a street, and I can't see that roosters act much different if they do belong to the male sex. Anyhow, that man on the motorcycle turned out so as not to hit the cat, and—well, I suppose he must have hit something for he went head over heels and that contraption he was riding lying a-top of him with the engine running.

"Was he killed?" gasped Charmian.

IS BABY TEETHING?

Teething time is a time of worry to most mothers. The baby is nervous; fretful; feverish. His little gums are swollen and sore; diarrhoea, constipation, colic and sometimes convulsions set in—neither baby nor mother can sleep.

These troubles can be quickly banished, however, through the use of Baby's Own Tablets concerning which Mrs. Louis Grubb, Teeswater, Ont., says:—"I have used the Tablets for all my babies while teething and have found them a splendid medicine."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Bananas Grown in England

An exhibit which attracted considerable comment at the Royal Horticultural Society's Fruit Show, in London, England, was a bunch of bananas weighing nearly half a cwt., which had been grown in England.

This is the first time for 25 years that bananas grown in this country have been exhibited at one of the society's shows.

As he hesitated, Charmian gave way to a peal of laughter in which he joined.

"I wonder why it is that our elders take our slights so much more deeply to heart than we do ourselves," said the girl at last. "Miss Lizzie thinks she owns a piece of me, you know. In her opinion every man in Wickfield should be in love with me."

"She's not far off there," responded Jim gallantly. "But as for slights—why, I—I never..."

He was suddenly inarticulate, and Charmian stretched out an impulsive hand, laying it on one of those that gripped the steering wheel; which unexpected contact caused the car to swerve.

"You don't owe me any explanation, Jimmy."

"I think I do," he answered as she removed her hand, "but not on the subject of Clara Darling."

"About what, then?" asked Charmian in surprise.

Lake Minnewanka, famous sheet of water in the Canadian Rockies, not far from Banff, has entered angling history with the capture recently of the largest trout ever taken from the lake. It weighed 40 lbs. 8 ounces and was 41 inches in length and 32 inches in girth. It has been stuffed and is now in the Banff museum.

The immensity of the progress made and the almost boundless prosperity he sees ahead for Canada has brought home to him the great need for the awakening of England to a better understanding of the Dominion, was the statement made recently by Major L. A. M. Jones, economic supplements editor of the Morning Post, London, England, who is making a several months tour of Canada studying conditions here.

Didsbury Beat Olds 10-0

Didsbury played their first shut-out game of the present season when they defeated Olds baseball nine on Wednesday evening last at Olds.

The score does not suggest the run of the play, for on two or three occasions Olds were retired with two and three men on bases. Every credit must be given to the members of our local team for retiring the northerners at all critical periods. Didsbury scored half their runs in the fifth innings from many errors by the northerners. Devolin pitched the first six innings for Didsbury and Gooder twirled the balance, while Sutherland went the entire route for Olds.

Didsbury Win Hard Game At Innisfail

Didsbury won a hard-fought baseball game at Innisfail on Friday last by a score of 4-3, which put the team on a nearly equal basis in the standing of Rosebud League.

McMahon, Innisfail's star twirler who is usually Didsbury's hoodoo, was knocked from the box in the first of the second innings, after Didsbury had secured three runs. Wilson was then called to the mound and held Didsbury to one run.

Devolin pitched the entire game for our local boys and only allowed five scattered hits.

Didsbury Lose To Innisfail, 5-4

The best baseball game of the season was played on the local diamond, Monday evening, with Innisfail as visitors. Didsbury and Innisfail have been running a close race this season for second place in the League. Didsbury still have a chance to tie the northerners if they can win their last two games and Innisfail lose to Crossfield in their last game.

Didsbury held the lead up to the seventh innings, when the visitors scored two runs from a very costly error.

Gooder for Didsbury and Wilson for Innisfail, pitched the entire game.

Twelve thousand pounds of Quebec maple sugar and syrup were handled daily during the latter part of April by the Canadian Pacific Express Company to points overseas, the Prairie Provinces and Ottawa, constituting what is claimed to be a record movement of this dainty. Outside commercial uses, demand for this product arises on the part of individuals who make a practice of shipping it to relatives and friends in the Old Country and the west of Canada.

Close on six million dollars were spent on New Brunswick roads during 1929, being reconstruction of 221 miles of main trunk highways and 1138 miles of secondary roads. This is regarded as the most extensive programme of highway construction, improvement and maintenance ever undertaken in the Province.

Snapped in Hyde Park, London, England, recently: Hon. Barnaby Howard, little son of Lord Strathcona and descendant of the great Canadian who was one of the founders of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was photographed kissing his cousin, the small daughter of the Hon. Mrs. Arthur Howard. Both children are living links with the great past when one of the major events in the history of Canada was in the making.
